

Walking into Bathrooms International's Pont Street showroom, you are immediately enveloped into a world of extraordinary design influence. Unlike any normal showroom, Bathrooms International is set in a beautiful town house on a popular Belgravia street. Once inside you will discover a wealth of individual room sets each designed by a leading interior designer, including prestigious names such as Nina Campbell, Joanna Wood, Ann Boyd, Tessa Kennedy, Fox Linton, Stephen Ryan and Bill Benette.

Bathrooms International's welcoming Creative Director Cheryl Gurner explains the breadth of the design inspiration offered "We open our clients' eyes to the multiple choices and luxurious products on offer." The showroom space aims to inspire, surprise and delight, showcasing very different styles to suit any taste. From cutting edge, sculptural shapes to designs with a more traditional aesthetic, Gurner highlights "Our offer is completely bespoke, which allows us to develop truly unique bathroom designs within any setting."

Gurner has established a reputation as the doyenne of the bathroom industry having overseen the supply of bathrooms in the world's most luxurious private residences and commercial projects. Looking ahead the company has some exciting product developments in progress and some beautiful new projects in the pipe line; Gurner is looking forward to another dynamic year.
